Next Week's Gospel Reading First Sunday of Advent
Luke 24:37-44

As it was in the days of Noah, so it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. For in the days before the flood, people were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, up to the day Noah entered the ark; and they knew nothing about what would happen until the flood came and took them all away. That is how it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left. Two women will be grinding with a hand mill; one will be taken and the other left.

“Therefore keep watch, because you do not know on what day your Lord will come. But understand this: If the owner of the house had known at what time of night the thief was coming, he would have kept watch and would not have let his house be broken into. So you also must be ready, because the Son of Man will come at an hour when you do not expect him.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

This is what St Paul wrote: “Now if Christ is preached as raised from the dead, how can some of you say that there is no resurrection of the dead?”

But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep.”

Blessed Antonio Rosmini

How well do you know the Bible?

The next meeting will be led by Deacon Gerard on Tuesday 3rd December at 6.30pm in Gentili House. We shall be looking at the Exodus and the settlement of the Israelites in the Promised Land. Come along, all welcome. Bring a catholic bible if you can.

Advent Collection for Aid to the Church in Need

From the first weekend of Advent our collecting box is at the back of the church, for spare change to support this vital helpline for Christians. We're so fortunate here that it's easy to forget what happens daily elsewhere. Did you know that Christians are now the most persecuted religious body in the world? Our help can be vitally useful both in practical ways and in raising morale by showing that other Christians do care. Please help when you can! Contact Margaret on 541705.

Sunday Collection Thank you for last Sunday's offertory collection which amounted to £
