THIRTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Thought for the Week

The gentle law of divine Providence is such as to produce remote effects using secondary causes. This is why God wished to convert the world to the gospel by means of the apostles, and now daily makes the vivifying light of His word shine forth through the ministry of those he sends. Why look further? If we put our hopes in Him, He will bless our words. So let us do all we can through prayer, study, diligence, and so on, and let us not think beyond this.

What we need to think about it our own duties. In this alone we must find peace, leaving the rest to God.

- Blessed Antonio Rosmini

This week's Gospel – Luke 9:51-62
Jesus sets out for Jerusalem.

As the time drew near for him to be taken up to heaven, Jesus resolutely took the road for Jerusalem and sent messengers ahead of him. These set out, and they went into a Samaritan village to make preparations for him, but the people would not receive him because he was making for Jerusalem. Seeing this, the disciples James and John said, 'Lord, do you want us to call down fire from heaven to burn them up?' But he turned and rebuked them, and they went off to another village. As they travelled along they met a man on the road who said to him, 'I will follow you wherever you go.' Jesus answered, 'Foxes have holes and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head.' Another to whom he said, 'Follow me', replied, 'Let me go and bury my father first.' But he answered, 'Leave the dead to bury their dead; your duty is to go and spread the news of the kingdom of God.' Another said, 'I will follow you, sir, but first let me go and say goodbye to my people at home.' Jesus said to him, 'Once the hand is laid on the plough, no one who looks back is fit for the kingdom of God.'
